Can photovoltaic panels with cracks be sold

Overview

Even panels with invisible damage or reduced efficiency may still have some value, but extensive cracks or internal corrosion often require disposal. Broken solar panels contain hazardous materials such as lead, arsenic, cadmium, and silicon, which require careful, professional handling. Can broken solar panels be sold, and if so, how much can they fetch in the market?

Yes, broken solar panels can be sold, often at a lower price compared to functional panels. Visions of lost energy, safety hazards, and expensive replacements might immediately come to mind. It's a common concern for solar owners, and understanding the implications of a cracked panel is crucial for both your energy production. But what to do when your solar panels receive damage varies depending on the nature of the problem. When it comes to solar, the pros outweigh the cons for the most part. Panels generally last well over 25 years and have no or few. The global solar panel recycling market is projected to reach $478 million by 2030 (Grand View Research), and broken panels are playing a surprising role in this growing economy.
